Summary: Several advanced externship positions are available in Clinical and Child Clinical Psychology for the 2021-2022 training year at Quince Orchard Psychotherapy (QOP). QOP is a large private practice in Rockville, MD that provides affordable, accessible, research informed counseling and assessment services to children, adolescents, and adults. The externship includes both therapy and assessment experiences. Externs will carry an outpatient therapy caseload of 4-6 clients per week and complete 1-2 psychological evaluations per month. Externs with specific interests can tailor their experiences to receive specialized training in child/adolescent therapy, autism spectrum conditions, or ERP for OCD. Opportunities for co-leading groups may be available. Externs will be exposed to many different aspects of working in a successful private practice. One hour of individual supervision in therapy and one hour of supervision in assessment will be provided each week. Externs are invited to participate in a variety of workshops and continuing education events at the practice. Opportunities for paid psychology associate positions will be available after the first year of externship.

Qualifications: Prior practicum experience in therapy and experience with cognitive and personality instruments is required.

Time Requirements: 16 hours/week.

Required day for externship: Fridays preferred as one of the two days expected to be on site.

Number of positions being offered: 4-5
